

19. How has Michigan, and how have other jurisdictions, applied energy mandates in situations where an existing provider has excess capacity prior to the mandate?

Excess capacity prior to the RPS as defined in Act 295 does not impact the energy mandate. A website review and calls to Commission Staff indicates that no neighboring states require consideration of additional capacity prior to constructing new renewables to meet Renewable Portfolio Standard requirements.