

No Public Notices for Air Quality Rules and/or State Implementation Plans

The Michigan Department of Environment, Great Lakes, and Energy (EGLE) Air Quality Division currently has no open public comment periods for either State Implementation Plan documents or air pollution control rule packages.

Background: The complete Michigan SIP is a cumulative record of hundreds of documents developed in phases and for various purposes over many years. As federal requirements change States must add to, delete from, or revise components in the SIP. The Michigan SIP contains rules, statutes, permits, consent orders, plans, emissions inventories and budgets. The plan also contains binding commitments to take future actions under specific circumstances: Michigan's Air Pollution Control Rules are made up of multiple "parts" each covering its own subject matter and/or pollutants, which often need updating. It's also possible the AQD needs to create new rules to address air quality issues in the state.

NOTE: The Department of Environment, Great Lakes, and Energy (EGLE) has closed its offices and other facilities to visits from the public to help mitigate the spread of COVID-19. Necessary public meetings/hearings will be postponed to the extent possible or held virtually. When held virtually, every attempt will be made to accommodate and include individuals from diverse groups, including, but not limited to translation for those with limited English proficiency and provide call in numbers for those without internet access. Other options will also be considered on a case-by-case basis.

EGLE promotes the equitable treatment and meaningful involvement of Michigan's residents regarding the development, implementation, and enforcement of laws, regulations, and policies. Equitable treatment means that no group of people bears a disproportionate share of the negative consequences resulting from governmental, industrial, or commercial operations and policies. Meaningful involvement means all people have an opportunity to participate in decisions that affect their environment and/or health.

EGLE does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, religion, age, national origin, color, marital status, disability, political beliefs, height, weight, genetic information, or sexual orientation in the administration of any of its programs or activities, and prohibits intimidation and retaliation, as required by applicable laws and regulations.
