The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) of 2014, Public Law 113-128 (29 United States Code Section 3101, et. seq.)

Michigan Employment Security Act

Wagner-Peyser Act of 1933, as amended by the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) of 2014

Background: The REA Pilot Program and the RESEA Program provide customized services to the Unemployment Insurance Agency claimants deemed most likely to exhaust their unemployment benefits. These two programs offer an orientation of the Michigan Works! Service Centers, an eligibility assessment, a work search plan, labor market information, career guidance and reemployment services to the claimants. Previously, there was not a paid training component attached to these two programs.

MWAs will be allocated funds totaling $750,000 of Unemployment Insurance Penalty and Interest funds to provide career services and work-based learning opportunities, such as apprenticeships and On-the-Job Training (OJT), to allow claimants at risk of exhausting their unemployment benefits an opportunity to “earn and learn.”

Policy: Claimants who are referred to the REA or RESEA programs, or who are long-term unemployed individuals, or who are returning citizens, and/or are Partnership.Accountability.Training.Hope. (PATH) participants are eligible for work-based training services, which are employer-driven with the goal of employment after participation. Appropriate career services, as defined in section 134(c)(2) of the WIOA, may be provided to claimants as well. These services may include job search and placement assistance; career counseling; information on in-demand industry sectors and occupations, labor market information, referrals to employment activities and other programs and services; plus, short-term vocational services, classroom training, etc.

Work-based training can be an effective training strategy that can provide additional opportunities for participants finding high-quality work and for employers in developing a high-quality workforce. OJT, pre-apprenticeship, and registered apprenticeships, customized training, and transitional job placement are all identified as work-based training services.

These types of work-based training are defined as shown below.

OJT – intended to provide a participant with the knowledge and skills necessary for the full performance of the job. OJT is a critical tool that can help job seekers enter into successful employment. The term “on-the-job training,” means training by an employer that is provided to a paid participant while engaged in productive work in a job that:

- 1) Provides knowledge or skills essential to the full and adequate performance of the job;
- 2) Provides reimbursement to the employer of up to 75 percent of the wage rate of the participant for the extraordinary costs of providing the training and additional supervision related to the training; and,
- 3) Is limited in duration as appropriate to the occupation for which the participant is being trained, taking into account the content of the training, the prior work experience of the participant, and the service strategy of the participant, as appropriate.

Pre-Apprenticeship Training – designed to provide work experiences that can help participants obtain the skills needed to be placed into a registered apprenticeship.

Registered Apprenticeships – designed to combine paid learning on-the-job and related technical and theoretical instruction in a skilled occupation. This training is an important component of the education and training services that the workforce system can provide to its participants, and should be used as a strategy to train and employ job seekers. Registered apprenticeships offer job seekers immediate employment opportunities that usually pay higher wages and offer continued career growth.

Customized Training – aimed at meeting the special requirements of an employer with a commitment to employ after successful completion of the training.

Transitional Jobs – designed to work with employers to assist individuals with barriers to employment who are chronically unemployed or have an inconsistent work history. The goal is to establish a work history, demonstrate work success, and develop skills for the individual that will lead to employment. Employers assisting in this realm have no obligation to hire the individual after the training is completed, but are reimbursed up to 75 percent of the wage rate of the participant for the costs of providing the training.

For job seekers with barriers to employment or who are considered high-risk due to a factor in their personal backgrounds, the FBP of Michigan is a tool designed to assist these job seekers in obtaining employment.

The Fidelity Bond is a free-of-charge business insurance policy that insures employers against employee dishonesty such as theft, forgery, larceny, and embezzlement. Fidelity Bonding allows employers to hire and employ high-risk job seekers who seek full-time employment. The FBP diminishes the risk for employers and reduces the barriers to employment faced by high-risk job seekers. Employers must offer and guarantee job seekers full-time employment, which is 30 or more hours of work every week for six consecutive months; must pay wages with automatic paycheck deductions for federal taxes, and Fidelity Bonding must be a condition of hire. Those eligible for this program include the following individuals:

- Ex-offenders (Returning Citizens)
- People with poor credit records including bankruptcies
- Economically disadvantaged youth and adults who lack a work history
- Welfare assistance recipients
- Recovering substance abusers
- Dishonorably discharged from military service
- Youth in apprenticeships
- Those who cannot be commercially bonded

Process and Procedure

The claimant must be determined to be in need of work-based training services and possess the skills and qualifications to successfully participate in the designated training. Career services may be offered to prepare the claimant for the selected training.

MWAs are required to have a local policy in place that provides a strategy for administering work-based training.

- OJT
 - MWAs are required to have a local OJT policy for the execution of OJT contracts. Please follow this policy.
- Pre-Apprenticeship and Registered Apprenticeship Training
 - Follow your MWAs policy and procedures in offering apprenticeship training for the claimants.
- Customized Training
 - MWAs are required to have a local customized training policy for the execution of customized training contracts. Please follow this policy.
- Transitional Job Placement
 - Similar to an OJT, but there is not an expectation that the claimant will continue employment with the employer after the work experience is complete.

Reporting Requirements

To simplify the data entry requirements, it has been determined to use the Wagner-Peyser training section in the One-Stop Management Information System. MWAs are welcome to dually enroll these claimants in WIOA if they find this to be beneficial to the claimant.

Instructions for entering claimants are outlined on the next few pages.
